Address Coding Guide

Date Revised: January 2010

User Notes to Address Coding Guide

The Address Coding Guide is a comprehensive listing of address ranges and streets solely within the corporate limits of the City of Wilmington. It includes business, industrial, and residential areas. Also, it does not require to be revised unless a new street, lane, court, etc., is created. Primarily, it was developed to electronically match external sources of information with various internal revenue files of the City. The ultimate purpose of which is to establish and automated and efficient revenue verification process to increases City revenues.

Although the guide was developed for electronic matching, it can be used manually to determine City location/residency. If used manually, the user should be aware of the manner in which it was developed. Most importantly, the guide is applicable to only zip codes for or involving the City of Wilmington, i.e., zip codes 19801, 19802, 19805, 19806, 19807, 19850, and 19899. Numerous duplicate addresses exist in other zip code areas of New Castle County. The guide itself consists of two double-sided pages listing addresses alphabetically by primarily street name and secondarily by street type and/or street direction. Numerical streets appear at the end.

For your further reference, the street number ranges listed were intentionally expanded above and below actual existing ranges for streets completely internal to the City. This was done, when and where possible, to compensate for address numbering irregularities and for possible future development. This applies, as well, to some non-existent (recently vacated) streets that previously existed. In addition, a column entitled "E/O" meaning the even or odd side of the street appears immediately to the right of the "STREET # RANGE" column. If an "E" or "O" is listed, only the even or odd street numbers, respectively, are within the City. This usually occurs where the City demarcation line runs parallel to a street. There are only twenty (20) such listings, but care should be utilized.

Also, it should be noted that duplicate or multiple listings of the same street are contained in the Address Coding Guide to facilitate electronic matching and to compensate for address coding errors. Some examples are Delaware Avenue, Northeast Boulevard, Saymoure Road, and 6th Avenue. For instance, Delaware Avenue may be abbreviated; therefore, it is also listed as DE, Del, and Dela Avenue. Northeast Boulevard is contained not only as Northeast, but also as North East, North E, N East, N E, and NE Boulevard. Saymoure Road is also misspelled as Saymore Road and 6th Avenue is spelled out as Sixth Avenue. Wherever the probability of address coding errors exists, you may find duplicate or multiple listings of the same street. To reiterate, this was done to facilitate electronic matching and to compensate for address coding errors.

One final note involves apartment or multi-unit buildings/structures. For purposes of the Address Coding Guide, individual apartment or unit letters/numbers are irrelevant since the building or structure address determines its location.
